

VICKI REID ~ VICTORIA

Vicki Reid has been involved in the Arabian horse industry and the horse industry in general since childhood.

She has been a National Panel Judge for the Arabian Horse Society since 1993. Prior to this, Vicki commenced judging on the Victorian Arabian Horse Association Panel in 1988. She has extensively judged 'A' class shows Australia wide over this period of time in all categories.

Vicki has judged major Arabian shows including, The National Arabian Stud Horse Show, Barastoc Horse of the Year Show, Royal Melbourne, The Victorian Arabian Classic, W.A. Arabian State Title show and the Arabian Feature Show.

She has been involved in organising and running major back to back Arabian shows in the past. For some years, Vicki has owned and bred Purebred and Derivative Arabians and has trained, shown and ridden Arabians of all descriptions in both halter and performance events. In the past, she has been active as a Pony Club Instructor.

Vicki has travelled extensively internationally and within Australia visiting major events and studs to further her knowledge base of the breeding of the Arabian horse.

When asked about her “pet hates” Vicki responds “handlers excessively working horses in stand-ups, horses not standing still when asked, horses not walking straight away or towards the Judge & any cruel or intimidating practices used when presenting or showing horses.”
